Information Sources

Total Program Costs: This is the total tuition, fees and average estimated textbook and equipment expense for a student attending full time who takes and passes every course currently required by the program at Ross University School of Medicine a single time at the current tuition rate.

Median tuition, books and fees paid is the median amount paid to Ross University School of Medicine by students using Title IV aid who graduated from this program within the normal program length who started in the 2012-13 academic year. This amount is different than the Total Program Cost and may be different for each student because students may transfer credits from other colleges or repeat courses that are not passed the first time.

Median student loan debt is the median total debt (federal, private and institutional loans) of students who completed this program within the normal program length who started in the 2012-13 academic year.

Loan Default Rate is the percentage of borrowers (Foreign Title IV eligible colleges and Ross University School of Medicine) entering repayment in 2014 who defaulted on their loans within 3 years. Provided by the U.S. Department of Education and can be found at: <http://www2.ed.gov/offices/OSFAP/defaultmanagement/cdr.html>.

USMLE Step Exam Pass Rates are provided by the Educational Commission for Foreign Medical Graduates (ECFMG). The rates reflect the percentage of students attempting the exam during the calendar year who passed on the first attempt.

First-Time Residency Attainment Rate for 2017-18 graduates in the 2018 match year. Includes residencies obtained outside the main NRMP match.
